R. M. MANITOU LAKE COUNCIL MEETING

The council of the R. M. Manitou Lake met Monday, March 3rd. All members being present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The secretary's term of notice having expired, and the arrangements for his successor not being completed as to the date of his commencing duties, it was resolved that the present secretary hold office until next meeting, April 7th.

The agreement with the Department of Highways to pay for their surveyors services at $15 per day was confirmed for 1919.

The reeve reported that consequent upon Mr Smith's failure to audit the accounts for 1918, and Mr Saul not being able to attend he had authorized the secretary to have Mr. Nachtergaele of Chauvin, do the work at the usual rate, that is to say, at $50. The council approved this.

Secretary reported that Mr Nachtergaele had conducted a systematic and thorough audit, and found all in order and left the following note "The Secretary, Manitou Lake, No. 442—Dear Sir: Before leaving after completing the audit of your books for 1918, I am very pleased to state herewith that my work was made a very easy and pleasant one by the exactitude and clearness of your bookkeeping." A. Nachtergaele"

Subject to his consent Mr. J. E. Wilson was appointed to the position of Weed Inspector for the eastern portion of the municipality.

In the case of the late Olaf Anderson, the accounts for the expenditures connected with his burial were passed by the council. The charge to be protected by a caveat, if necessary: J. Patterson account $15; Small Bros. Wainwright for casket $60.00 Wright for telegrams.

A letter to the Department of Education having been written by Mr. Botwright, asking for further consideration before approving the erection of the proposed new school district at Rereshill, the council, after due consideration, decided to adhere to the approval they had given to the proposition.

Dr. Folkin's account for attendance on influenza patients came under discussion and the secretary was directed to ask for details as to which cases were quarantined and what visits were made in connection.

It was decided that as from January 1st last, in all cases calling for the Medical Officer's attendance to quarantine and to release same, the costs of such visits shall be charged to the patient by the Doctor, and failing payment, the council will pay for the quarantine and release visits only, not for purely professional visits in any case.

All such charges to be repaid to the council by the patient, failing which, that a caveat be lodged against the land owned by such person, or the amount recovered by other legal means.

This decision is strictly in accordance with the Public Health Act.

It was resolved to pay Mr. R. Jukes of Artland, the sum of $10 for services in planning and valuing the lots in the registered sub-division of Artland.

It was resolved to grant the sum of $50 to the Red Shield, Salvation Army Fund.

INSTITUTE ADDRESS BY M. J. TINLINE B.S.A.

The Institute meeting held under the auspices of the Chauvin Agricultural Society last Friday evening, was well attended. Along the audience we noted the presence of a number of our most progressive farmers and their wives, and also children from the Chauvin High School.

LtCol Rodden occupied the chair and introduced the speaker M. M. J. Tinline, B. S. A., Superintendent of the Scott Experimental Farm.

Mr. Tinline in opening his very capable address, dwelt strongly on the fact that our district, as at Scott, is to be considered a dry-farming country. To obtain the most satisfactory results dry-farming methods must be employed and crop rotations were desirable. He quoted the results of a number of experiments regarding crop rotations. (Full details can be obtained on application).

On lands free from noxious weeds and not infested with grass, he advocated the process of summerfallow, crop of wheat, the second stubbled in, and then summerfallow. There was no profit from growing peas and vetches to fertilize the land. Ordinary barnyard manure, well scattered gave better results.

In the matter of seeding he related that in the northern districts, where the seasons were short, and crops had to be hastened, he found the best results obtained by seeding 13-4 bushels of wheat; and 2 or less bushels of Oats per acre.

Ordinary breaking, well done, gave better results than breaking and back-setting, under the conditions prevailing in our district.

Experiments as to the depth of seeding had been carried out. Depths of from one inch to four inches had been tested. Three inches had been proved best.

Kitchener, Red Bobs and Marquiss wheats had proved the best wheats, in the order named.

In oats, Banner and Victory.

In barley, the two rowed varieties gave superior results to the six-rowed Western Rye grass was the outstanding grass for this country. It has, however a tendency, if cut late, to become weedy; but if cut at the right time, made splendid feed.

He advocated that his hearers send to Scott for sample lots of the Early Rose potatoes, for raising seed for future main crops. He spoke favorably of this variety; as he did also of the Irish Cobbler, the latter was not quite so smooth in the skin, but a good producer, he advocated sprouting the potatoes before planting.

He also commended the Wee Mc Gregor potato for main and later crop. Perennial flowers were more suitable for this district than the annual varieties.

Currants, gooseberries, strawberries and raspberries could all be successfully raised in this locality. He advocated only the hardier varieties, such as Dakota strawberries and Sunbeam raspberries.

For hedges, they had demonstrated at the Scot farm, that Caragana and Laurel Leaf Willow would not only grow, but produce splendid results.

Regarding trees, he advocated only the Russian poplar and the White spruce.

Feeding cattle for finishing was better accomplished in straw sheds than in open corrals during the winter months. It was perfectly possible to make winter feeding profitable if the steers were bought at the right price and well handled during the winter months. The profits were chiefly derived in the spread of the price, however.

By the use of a self-feeder, and with oats at 2c per pound, they had, at Scott, been able to feed pigs profitably.

There was good money in sheep. At the Scott farm, three years ago, they had invested $1200 in sheep. Now with their sales and stock on hand they had proceeds from this investment now totalled $5200. An increase of $4000 in three years.

Regarding the egg-production in January. Pullets hatched in March had laid 18 eggs, pullets hatched in April, 16; whilst pullets hatched in

LEALHOLME U.F.A. OUT AFTER DOWNWARD TARRIFF REVISION

Thomas White, acting premier, requesting a downward revision of tarriff along the lines proposed in farmers' platform. Essential we make strong representations at once" H. W. Woods, Pres.

In response to this request, the following message, expressing the sentiments of the members of the Lealholme U. F. A., was prepared and sent to Sir Thomas White, House of Commons, Ottawa, the following day:—

"Lealholme U. F. A., Alberta, urgently needs tarriff revision downward along lines proposed in farmers' platform, and urge your earnest consideration on their behalf.

AN IRISHMAN'S LUCK

Our Serial Story

Chapter 11
A disturbing problem

I wonder what is making Bert so late' said Mrs Enderby an hour and an half later, as they still sat round the table after supper; 'I do hope nothing has happened to him; it was quite early when he went down to Dawson's to the mail, and it is nearly eight o'clock, and it is so dark, and the roads are so bad—I do hope

'Why mother' interrupted Daisy, what could happen to him?—Perhaps the mail was late getting up, or, what is most likely hee has gone into Jim Hardie's, and he is stopping there for supper and they are having a nice comfortable bewailment over the horrid weather, I guess—'

'Daisy, dear!'

'Well then, mother, I think we may as well wash the dishes and tidy up a little for Sunday, and if he has not had his supper we can easily get it for him when he does come.'

'Get the lantern Sam, and take it down to the gate' went on Mrs Enderby, 'and if it is Mr Bert, you can take the pony up to the stable, and then if you will get a pail of water from the well and put some wood to dry under the stove, you can go to bed—and Sam, as it's Sunday, you need not get up until your master calls you in the morning—and there's Mr. Bert calling for the lantern.'

The Barnardo chore boy hurried out willingly enough to do Mrs Enderby's behest for he had a good home and lighter work than most of his fellows who were scattered among the farm-houses of the settlement—of course, he had a grievance, or he would not have been a chore boy, and Sam's was the polite insistence which the which Mrs Enderby insisted upon his using Mr and Miss in speaking of the members of the family 'you bet I don't do it outside' Sam confided to Frank, the chore boy at the Hardie's—it's just Bert or Daisy, without any of your blooming' Mist'ers or Misses then'

A few minutes later Bert entered from the lean-to, where he had left his overcoat and riding boots, and carrying a big bundle of papers and letters strapped together

'Now, Bert' cried Daisy, 'give an account of yourself—here's the mater' imagining all kind of catastrophes that might have happened between here and the post office—perils by mud holes—perils by old Mrs Dawson's tongue—perils by—'

'Well there's no peril of you forgetting the sound of your own voice, Daisy' said Bert good-humouredly, 'Yes I've had my supper, mother, I had it at Jim Hardie's—I took some letters in for them, as I came by and they were just sitting down—and you know his way—'

'Oh, yes, we know his way—' 'Sit in and make yourself at home' mimicked Daisy—and you forget all about your anxious parents—mother thinking you were lost, and Dad that the English mail had not come.'

Well the English mail did come, and that is what made me later than I should have been, for I stayed talking over with Jim, a letter he had from England—'

'Jim Hardie a letter from England England?'

'If you will only keep quiet, Daisy for two consecutive minutes' went on Bert, deliberately 'you hall know'

You remember hearing about Miss Raye, mother, you used to teach the school up at 'Sweden'—Jim met her up at Ole Smanson's where she boarded—well, she went home about two years ago, and this last winter she wrote to Jim, saying that her brother was coming out to work on a farm be fore homesteading, and that she wanted to get a school until he was able to make a home for her on the homestead Two or three letters have passed between them—I've been doing the writing for Jim—'

'(This is getting thrilling' murmured Daisy, aside) —and the upshot is that they—that is Miss Raye and her brother sailed ten days ago and will be in Minnedosa some time the end of next week—and there is a little difficulty—'

'As to which of you shall meet her at the station—if Jim Hardie goes' his wife will be jealous, and if you go, the mater will see visions of a bashful young man and a designing school-marm.'

'Daisy, dear' said Mrs Enderby, mildly, 'do please let your brother finish his sentence—I'm sure Mr Hardie and Bert are just thinking of being kind to these poor people and helping them—'

'Oh yes, of course, mother, it's just the milk of human kindness—but I remember seeing Miss Raye when she was out before at the show in Minnedosa and she was an awfully pretty girl then—and a pretty face adds a little cream as it were—'

'The trouble mother, is this—young Raye is to work for Jim Hardie, and Jim and the other trustees have engaged Miss Raye for the year in the Lakeside School, but there is a little difficulty in getting a boarding place for Miss Raye'

Couldn't the Hardie's take her?' suggested Marion, 'they have quite a large house, and—'

'I know,' said Bert, 'but Jim has a regular hired man and the choreboy, and then there will be young Raye and the children, it would be too much work for his wife—Jim suggested it, and talked of getting a hired girl to help, but I could see that Mrs Hardie did not like the idea.'

'That settles that then, for Mrs Hardie's ideas count for the whole pile—'

'For more than my ideas of English do with Daisy Enderby' said her mother, 'but there are a number of other places, surely, where Miss Raye could find a suitable home—there is Mrs McCulloch, a most respectable old lady and old Mr McCulloch is an elder, and—'

Catechism in the daytime and—have you forgotten the night you—I won't how the hosts, of—'

'No, that would never do' said Bert quite decisively, 'we did think of the Dawsons—but then—it's the post office, and there is only one sitting room where everyone goes for their mail. I fancy Mrs Dawson and Mary Ann might be kind enough in their way—and, of course, Miss Raye has lived in 'Sweden' and is used to things—but old Dawson—it would not be a nice place for—'

'A nice girl' finished Daisy for him, 'not unless she is interested in William of Orange, the Pope of Rome, and has a sympathy with the lavish use of tobacco—otherwise than by smoking it'

'I wonder, mother' said Marion, who had remained silent during the later part of the discussion. 'I wonder, mother, whether we might not have Miss Raye here—that is of course if she is quite a nice kind of a girl. She would be near her brother, and it would not be too far to walk to the school'

'Oh, I don't think there is any doubt of her being quite a lady from your English point of view', said Bert, 'her father was a clergyman and she sent testimonials and certificates from the Cheltenham Ladies College when she applied for the school—Jim says she was a great favorite up in 'Sweden' both with the children and the settlers. Ole Swanson wanted her to go back to their school again when he heard she was coming out, but she wants to be near her brother.'

'Don't you see mother that Jim Hardie and Bert are two dark conspirators who have made their little plot before we innocents knew anything about it. But, really, mother, as Dad says he will take no more pupils, why a girl would be better than nothing to liven us a little, and I should dearly love to see Bert smitten for once.'

'Well, children, I really do not know what to say—poor girl—life is very rough here—and there used to be quite the best kind of girls at Cheltenham College when I was a girl myself—and her father was a clergyman—but then clergyman's daughters are often very pretty and attractive—so your father used to say—and what she paid for her board would enable us to have one of Mrs Peterson's girls in to do the washing and scrubbing—really I do not know what to say—and Mrs En-derby was quite distressed by the many conflicting vistas that opened to her view. 'It would be very nice if—then again it would not be so nice if—really, Bert suppose we leave it over till to-morrow before we decide, and I'll speak to your father—of course, it must be as he says'

'Bert dear' said Daisy, as she lit her lamp and kissed her brother good-night, 'Bert, dear, you are becoming altogether too clever—you had better settle with Jim Hardie tomorrow as to who is to meet the young lady at Minnedosa and bring her home to the Dingle—Joe Bagster was a mere child in slyness—though I'll spare Marion's nerves as to his way of putting it.'

To be continued next week

JOHN DEERE WHEEL PLOW

With QUICK DETACHABLE SHARES
Unscrew One Nut—That's All

The latest improvement on John Deere Sulky and Gang Plows is the JOHN DEERE QUICK DETACHABLE SHARE. Unscrew one Nut and the share comes off. Slip Share on, tighten the one nut and you are ready to work. Shares on or off quick —That's the Idea.

Here are some of the advantages of the "Q. D." Shares

Ordinary shares have three or four bolt holes near the top. Q.D. shares have only one—near the middle. Consequently Q. D. shares are strong, where bolted shares are weak.

Q. D. shares fit tightly to the moldboard at every point of contact. They are held in place by even and well distributed pressure. No unpepual strains as on old style bolted shares.

A dull Q. D. share can be replaced with another in the time taken to get the tools and plow ready for old style bolted shares.

The share can be removed in 30 seconds and replaced in 60 seconds. It takes from eight minutes to half an hour to change old style shares

The Recent Election In Division 3

The Secretary reported to the Council that since the last meeting he had received a summons to attend at the Wilkie Town Hall to answer a charge of irregularity in connection with the election for Councillor for Division No. 3 on December 9 last.

The charge was that he failed to post up the voters list in his office and to have it on view for inspection not later than November 1st.

He was also charged with adding names on the voters list after the set time appointed by the Act, and also with failing to comply with the Acts required in such cases.

A fourth charge was that he added a name on the voters list not on the Assessment Roll.

At the election referred to Messrs Garfield Lawson and Wm. Marquardt were nominated and the first-named was called by a majority of 11 over Mr. Marquardt. The complainants protested three votes, two of which counted, as the protest was invalid.

Two other votes were allowed them on the ground that the papers were not correctly filled in, one being torn. After allowing them these votes, the majority still stood at 11.

No attempt was made in the usual way to invalidate the election, but these proceedings were instituted. Mr. A. F. Wright, the Deputy Returning Officer was also summoned for irregularity. The accusers were Messrs W. J. Forran, M. L. Forran, Lewis Wilson, J. G. Kitching and Mr. Marquardt, the defeated candidate.

The trial was held at the Wilkie Town Hall, before Justice Dinsdale.

The complainants were represented by Mr. McCall of Edmonton and defendants by Mr. MacDonald of Wilkie.

The Secretary did not deny that the voters list was not on view at the set time. Asked by his Counsel to explain the reasons to the bench, he stated that the volume of work he had to handle had grown out of all reason during the last three months of the year making it almost impossible to observe the strict letter of the Act as to dates.

In addition to the ordinary routine of the office, which was at the period named very heavy, it was necessary to plan and value the land and buildings in the new registered sub-division of Artland, this being the first year of its legal existence. The plans were not ready until November 25th.

The labor and time involved in handling the seed grain advances at the time was great, this matter being far more voluminous and complicated this year than before.

The outbreak of influenza in October also added very considerably to the office work. Doctors medicines and nurses being wanted, and many hindrances to the ordinary office work resulted.

Secretary added that never before had he been held to the strict letter of the law in preparing voters lists at the set time, and maintained that in practice it was far more important that persons who were entitled to be placed thereon, SHOULD be placed thereon AT ANY TIME right up to the election day, RATHER THAN NOT AT ALL.

The third charge was on similar grounds. The fourth charge was that the name of a person appeared on the voters list whose name was not on the last revised Assessment Roll. This charge was withdrawn, but the fact was that the mans name WAS on the Assessment Roll, though not on until December 2.

The first three charges being admitted, a fine of $1, in each case was imposed and to pay a proportion of the Court and witnesses costs.

The case against Mr. Wright, the Deputy Returning officer resulted in a fine of $200. being inflicted, the offence alleged being that he did not ask the Agents present at the poll if they had any objection to make to the voters as they presented themselves to vote.

The fine was, by the Act, to be paid to the complainants, but the presiding magistrate recommended them to waive their right to it, but this was refused.

As the case is to be appealed, the details are not given herein, but will be published after the hearing of the appeal.

The Council voted the sum of $250 to the retiring Secretary as a mark of their appreciation of his valuable services to them during the five years of his office.

The motion was supported by the Reeve Mr. Philip M. Chapman Esq. and by Councillors Dundass, Lawson, Smith Gordon and Stewart, Councillor R. M. Graham alone objecting.

Secretary wished to be allowed to vacate the Marsden Office on the 7th in order to remove his wife to Edmonton. This was approved. The work will be carried on as usual at Edmonton and attendance will be given by meeting at Mr. Chapman's on April 7th and he expects by that time to be able to introduce the new Secretary.

Letters to his new address will receive attention.

The address will be published next week.

RIBSTONE LADIES CURL

AT CHAUVIN

A very pleasant evening was spent at the Chauvin curling rink last Monday evening. A large party of visitors came in from Ribstone, enough to make up both a gents and ladies rink of curlers. Corresponding rinks were scratched to represent Chauvin and two good games were played.

At the conclusion of the games a supper was served by the local ladies and by the hospitality of Mrs Shular, the use of the hotel rooms were freely available to the visitors.

Three G.T.P. has finally thrown up its hands owing two hundred millions of dollars in mortgages. This is a very large debt for some to assume. Some one has got to do it whether it be another Company or the people of the Dominion of Canada. We however we need not feel discouraged as those debts have got to be paid and the only way they can be paid is by operating the road, and we may even look for a more vigorous operation combined possibly with more economy than under the defunct company.

Being thus assured we may continue to be optimistic about our town. If you will pardon a personal reference, we have established a Drug Store as good as is usually found in the average town. We are stocking it up as well as our circumstances will warrant, but we do not care to get any two hundred million dollar in debt. We handle a the known patent medicines, we dispense prescriptions and private formulas with the minutest caution and accuracy.

Last seen at 1.30 p.m., middle of the dya walking on the street in the front of the Le Marchand Mansions, Edmonton, where she was a high school teacher.

Age 33 looked younger than her age; height 5 feet 7 or 8 inches; weight 130 to 135 lbs.; full face, fair complexion, taing appearance; bluish grey eyes; dark brown hair; has whole set of white natural teeth two front ones slightly apart; mark on neck result of goitre operation; well built, likely thinner than the photo.

From all the known circumstances up to March 5 her family believes she is alive as her brother and sister searched for her immediately After for a month in Edmonton; also the police, and no trace or clue was found and no one saw her disappear. What-ever happened came very suddenly, without any premeditation on her part; as she left everything just as she was working at it and with plans made for the future.

It is said she prepared to go shopping; after recovering from the influenza and it is feared she suffered a relapse from this and wandered away. She may be in some French or German home where she has been befriended as she spoke both these languages fluently. Had travelled a good deal, always cheerful and clever in conversation. Had a fair knowledge of Spanish and Italian and may be in some foreign home.

She wore at that time a long very dark green coat; one piece, dark green dres green velour turned down sailor hat, mink furs and black lace boots.

The appointment follows an official notification which Sir Thomas White received on Thursday from the vice-president of the Grand Trunk Pacific, a notification that in view of the fact that the increased rates applicable to the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway have not been sufficient to meet the increased operating expenses it would not be possible for the company owing to lack of funds, to continue its operations beyond March 10th.

CREDITS SUSTAIN

OUR FOREIGN TRADE

The public hardly realizes the extent to which Canada's export trade is dependent on the providing of credits for other governments. Since the middle of 1918 credits amounting to $524,000,000 have been advanced to the British Government as follows:—

Imperial Munitions Board, $132,000 000 for the purchase of Canadian grain $55,000,000; for exports of dairy products, $35,000,000; for the sae of the other exports of food, $10,000,000

This money came from the Canadian public in the form of loans. Out of their savings over 1,000,000 people in this country bought Dominion bonds, and thus provided the funds out of which these advances were made. This practice must be continued if Canada is to get her share of the export trade.

Those who buy War Savings and Thrift Stamps supply money for these credits.

Archie Irving was a visitor to Chauvin on Sunday.

From these results, obtained by experiments at Scott, the inference to be drawn, was that early hatched pullets were essetial for the production of eggs in January .

In all, Mr Tinline's address was most instructive, and his delivery was easy to follow. Using simple and plain language throughout, his hearers went away, carrying more instruction than they had anticipated. Mr. Tinline invited correspondence and enquiries upon all subjects relative to farming,
they had anticipated. Mr. Tinline
LtCol Rodden, in closing th meeting, invited suggestions as to making the Chauvin Agricultural Society of more service to the farmers of the district.
The feeling of the meting was that a fw mor of these gatherings would be much appreciated. A debate as to the comparative merits of the Percheron

ed. Mrs Armour was invited to give

FRANCE'S EXAMPLE TO ALBERTA

Alberta is being urged to take France as its model for Thriftiness. There are 800,000 families in France holding railway bonds; 15,000,000 persons in France who have savings accounts in Government Banks, and 8,000,000 with savings accounts in other banks. To move the French National Ledger in which is kept a record of the people's money deposited with the Government, required nine Freight cars. This transportation problem developed when the Capital was moved for a few weeks at the beginning of the war.

ALBERTA'S NEW PROBLEM

It has been charged that Albertans are the most extravagant people per capita on this fairly well-known globe of ours. This news will come as a painful surprise, and will pave the way for the resolve to turn the loose quarters into Thrift Stamps and the loose dollars into Four Dollar War Savings Stamps, earning four and one-half per cent, compound interest.

SIX HOURS PER DAY FOR FIVE DAYS A WEEK

Winnipeg March 9.—At a meeting of the Trades and Labor Council this afternoon for the purpose of instructing the delegates from the council and the various unions in regard to the business likely to come before the Western labor convention, which opens at Calgary next Thursday, it was unanimously decided to strongly advocate a six-hour day, and a five day week, or a thirty-hour week. Another resolution adopted was one which failed at the Canadian labor convention held last summer at Quebec, for organization by industry and not as at present by craft. It is expected that over 50 Winnipeg labor representatives will participate in the Western labor parliament.

CORRESPONDENCE

At the request of two of our citizens, we reproduce the following letter, which appeared recently in the weekly edition of the Winnipeg Telegram.

Is the Grain Growers Grain Company Playing the Game?

Winnipeg, Manitoba, January 9th 1919.
Dear Sir: When the Grain Growers Grain Company was organized it was generally understood by the farmers of this country that the principal object was to secure enough farmer stockholders to influence both the provincial and dominion governments to pass laws protecting the farmers so that they should be paid full value for what they produced, and not to be overcharged for what they consumed, as well as to protect them from in any way being defrauded. Now have the directors and management done this? Have they played the game fairly with the farmer, or have they played the hypocrite? I will endeavour to give you some facts and leave the reader to judge for himself.

The Grain Growers Grain company amalgamated with the Alberta Farmer's Co-Operative company Ltd, and they now operate under the name of "United Grain Growers Ltd." In a previous letter I published the figures taken from the report of the board of grain commissioners for Canada for the crop year ending August 31st 1917, showing that fifteen terminal elevators divided among themselves 848,950 bushels of wheat, 370,870 bushels of oats, 27662 bushels of barley and 3,690,027, or 61,500 bushel of mixed grain, conservatory valued at $2,031,251.00. This grain was the difference between the dockage that was deducted from the farmers and shippers for dirt and screenings and dirt found by actual separation. This overage is, without doubt the property of the farmer, just the same as if the farmer delivered 100 bushels of wheat to an elevator, and the elevator owner looked at the sample and deducted five bushels for screenings and dirt, so the farmer had the elevator owner seperate the screenings from the wheat and found there were only two bushels of screenings and dirt, and the farmer would then naturally demand payment for the three bushels of overage, but the elevator operator would say "No" my first decision is final, and I will pay you for 95 bushels and no more."

"The case at the terminal elevator is exactly the same except that the elevator owner does not advise the farmer of the surplus found, but sells it and appropriates the money to their own the overage which is the property of the farmers?"

The Grain Grower's Grain Company show by their statement for the year ending 31st ugust 1917, that they made a profit of $607 899.18 on a paid-up capital of $1,357,382.46, which is over 44 12 per cent on the paid-up capital. In their financial report they say that a special and correct account is kept of their nine different departments, each one being obliged to stand entirely upon its own feet. In this way the directors know just how each department of the business is progressing. The financial statement given to the stockholders show the combined earnings of all departments. Being anxious to ascertain the earnings of their elevators, I asked the president over the phone, for a copy of the financial statement of their terminal elevators for the above year, buthe positively refused to give me this. Was the president sincere in his address to the shareholders where he says "A great task lies ahead of the Canadian people,—the task of making Canada a place where everyone has a fair chance and a square deal, and where no one is allowed to make gain for himself except as a result of his own work, and at the expense of no one else." One would think the president, in making this statement would be both willing and anxious to give the public any information about the profits of each department, but he evidently takes another view. The president in his address to the shareholders gives the profit and loss on some of the different departments, but is mum on the profit of the terminal elevator. From what I could gather from the report the earnings from one trminal and one hospital elevator (the latter was only in operation from the 1st January to the 31st of August) was about $400,000.00. If I am not correct in this amount, I will accept the company's corection. From the report of the board of grain commissioners, a great portion of this was made from overage, which I claim to be the property of the farmers.

"In the above year the company made from overage, which was the rightmul property of the farmer, much more than paid the shareholders in dividends. From information receiv- from one of the officers, the Grain Growers' Ltd., have from 30,000 to 40,000 stock subscribers, who are principally the farmers of the prairie provinces, and if properly operated on protected lines could be of great benefit to the farmers of Canada. The average individual holding is about $5). The management and directors seem to use the 30,000 to 40,000 to sing their praises for which they pay them a dividend of 10 per cent, or an average of about $5 per year each, and they actually took a greater amount from the farmers by the way of excessive dockage on grain shipped through for which they give no value. This is certainly a cheap system of advertising their company, but expensive to the farmer.

The farmers of Canada cannot expect much assistance from the United Grain Growers' Ltd., either by legislation, or in any other way, while they take from them the grain overage which is the property of the farmer, sell it and apply the proceeds to their own use. If the president of the United Grain Growers' Ltd., who is a cabinet minister at Ottawa advocated any change in the tariff on agricultural implements, would not the question be asked him: "How can you conscientiously ask for any further protection to the farmer when the company of which you are president accepts the grain overage that is the rightful property of the farmer, and applies it to the use of your company?" It would be like the freckled faced man selling a concoction to remove freckles. The United Grain Growers' Ltd., have representatives on their board who are members of the federal parliament, and I have never heard them protesting against the handing over to the fifteen terminal elevators this enormous amount of grain taken from the farmers as excessive dockage. One would think if the directors of this company were sincere they would protest, on the floor of the House of Commons and not allow this enormous amount of $2,031,315.00 to be divided among the fifteen terminal elevators, a great part of which goes to foreign countries, and Canada does not even get the advantage of the circulation of this money, as the stock of a number of these terminal elevators is held by people living in other countries.

If the government allow the terminal elevators to appropriate to their own use the grain docked from th farmers for screenings in excess of the screenings actually found by separation from the crap year ending 31st August, 1919, they are certainly not worthy of the confidence of the Canadian public, as by doing so they encourage dishonesty and discourage the farmers who are the backbone of Canada, and worthy of all the protection the government can give them. The government should force the terminal elevators to make a reasonable cash charge for handling grain, so that they would know what they were paying. Webster's definition of the word "stealing" is the "act of taking the property of another without his knowledge r consent." The reader can decide whether the terminal elevator companies acted honestly or dishonestly in taking the overage (which I claim is the property of the farmer) without his consent.

With the above information the reader can judge if the United Grain Growers', Ltd. are playing the game fairly with the farmers, or acting the role of hypocrite.

Thanking you for the valuable space in your paper, I am,

Yours truly,
W. J. CHRISTIE
